

Just in Few Words

To the Holy feet of Thakur

Shree Shree Thakur Balak Bramhachari Maharaj

“God is someone through Whom the absolute energy of the Universal Cosmos is expressed or within Whom the supreme power resides.”

Unveiling the wrong doers is justified as in a way it will be counted as indulgence of the wrongful act and wrong doings. Since His childhood days, thakur had been unmasking the wrong doers. From His very tender age, He had borne the responsibility of reforming us all from superstitions and meaningless rituals by providing scientific explanations. While He was finding it extremely challenging to strike and crush these rituals, He started finding ways for this reformation. Then He decided to crush the rituals using other rituals, just like removing thorns with help of thorns. By doing so, He might have hurt the interest of some Godmen who are playing with religion, doing business, and acting as sages. As a result, He had to confront hardships and had to bear tremendous wrath of social storms. He fought these uprising to uphold the truth. This way from the age of 7-8 years He was fighting. Many close relatives, neighbors, teachers from pre-schools and schools, and many more had come to Him and received initiation from Him. Many were unhesitant to call Him ‘Satan’ as He had hurt their interests. He was neither elated when called God, neither He fell to zero degree when referred to as ‘Satan’. To Him both were same. He was not involved with any of these. He was just a worker, social worker, and Vedic Preacher. Veda is wisdom – Wisdom is truth. He was the worshiper of wisdom and a holder, bearer, and preacher of that true Veda.

Thousands of people from all over had come to Him. He had to deal with many things from past, present and future and He could see money strewed everywhere. Everyone needs money, rather there was time when He badly needed money. Everybody wanted to help him economically, but for the sake of His truthfulness, His ideology, He did not accept money from them. He did not take any unwarranted opportunity, yet He was always despised as opportunists. While standing at a higher pedestal He could see where the faults were. He wanted to convey His observations as He had an installed somewhat a powerful gadget inside Him which can detect the original and the fake. Like the device that detects electricity, He had installed a similar gadget within His soul. This device seemed capable of detecting the level of divinity of any spiritual practitioner. This was not an immaterial thought but was entirely based on material thought. Millions of Godmen have taken birth. Numerous scriptures, words of wisdom, biographies, orders, and instructions have been composed which can be evaluated and verified. He did not want to utter anyone's name. Neither did He liked to ignore anyone. But when He evaluated the activities, scriptures, instruction of those spiritual practitioners using the gadget installed in His soul, for some of them He found there is no response from the device. He was unable to state whether they were God, or Avatar, or highly ranked sages. Only He could observe that there was no response from His device. The pointer of His gadget was attuned with the tune from the device of the Nature. When He tried to align the tune of most of the godmen, sages, and Avatars with the tune of His device, they did not resonate and fell off-tune. Many of them had superstitious minds. They become afraid of trivial things. Therefore, in honor of their ancestors it could be they were tuned to a different level, that could not be detected by His device. However, He was very confident about His device, as it could rightly detect things that are in tune and detect the ones that were out of tune. However, there are so many scriptures and books written about them that if He said anything arbitrarily, it might have attracted unwelcoming comments, so He keep quiet as He had little option. But He could not accept it from within. While being silent, He could not be free from ambivalence either. Therefore, He was living His life through this intense turmoil.

Meanwhile lakhs of people were referring to Him as God. He believed if they called Him God, then they may call many persons as God. He used to mention that “God is someone through Whom the absolute energy of the Universal Cosmos is expressed or within Whom the supreme power resides”.

RAM NARAYAN RAM - RAM NARAYAN RAM- RAM NARAYAN RAM

The qualities of divinity of God as He perceive it, He found none in whom those qualities were expressed or exposed. A few thousand years ago, people referred to the King as God. Does that mean that the poor did not have the good fortune to become God? If we explore the history of those who were established as God, or as Avatar, then it was not possible to call them as the Supreme God. Out of fear, or reverence for their ancestors plus considering the social conditions, we agree to follow them and started calling them God. Though very few of them measured up to the attributes such as quality and definition as per the Law of Nature. Those who are considered as God, their activities were just like ordinary mortals, and all those behaviors were called “Miracle” by their fans to keep the devotion intact. From time to time, tales about their supernatural strength had been published, however, it gradually became difficult to reconcile among those stories. Critical analysis of their tales devoid them of their God like divinity. Fanatics believe those miraculous stories as truths. When debated and argued, the commentators and expositors, interpreted such tales in such a way to establish truthfulness about them with the objective that non-believers may not leave with doubts. However, the doubts are not removed. Common people or ordinary devotees who followed the path of devotion listened to those strange tales and stories with their eyes closed and with awe, but through that no solution could emerge and it would not be established through any wisdom and logic. Certain superhuman powers are revealed and evident in other living beings as well such as dogs, cats, snakes, frogs, cockroach, lizards, ants, etc. Those powers are absent in humans. Sometimes when we fail to search and find things, and we take help of a dog’s superhuman abilities. If someone hurts a snake, it can locate and bite the right person travelling hundreds of miles away. When mangoes or jackfruits are kept in open, flies can locate and reach there. We may not be able to find the jaggery, but ants can easily detect it. These qualities are not there in humans. If humans can acquire these qualities and powers, then some title can be conferred to them. God or any Avatar, must be omniscient, omni-aware, and omnipresent. God should be capable to exist in every substance, at any condition, and can exist in atomic and sub-atomic form and can also make impossible tasks possible. All the Godmen, Avatar, sages found in history were like ordinary beings. Likewise, they fall in love, get involved in relationships, have offspring, engage in fighting etc.

We find nice to hear stories from history and old script, however when trying to match from the point of view of divinity, they did fail. If their work was in tune with nature and provided resolution of dilemmas, it would have attracted our mind naturally and if it came from mind of the person who was God or Avatar, then only it could have been accepted. Whatever is the true, will be detected by the sophisticated instrument of our body. Even if one cannot sing, the person's ear is equipped to detect tune and detune. Tongue is equipped to only accept foods with good taste and will reject foods with bad taste. Similarly, he, in whom, Nature's tune is synchronized, will be able to respond to the right tune in the compass of mind. This will reveal where the true divinity lies. Evaluating from this perspective and trying to apply impartial judgments, He was stumbling upon myriads of conflicts every time. He did agree that sometimes people accept out of fear of superstitions, influence of ancestors which is one type of acceptance, but when evaluating using a balance machine, it was difficult to accept. If all old stories from religious scriptures were examined using such balance machine of individual consciousness, then none of them would have been acceptable to anyone. Though we loved listening to those stories but when evaluated on the weighing balance then doubts surface. He did not want to disrespect them those who were worshiped, followed, and respected by millions of people. However, when any doubt or conflict arose in such cases, He insisted that we think on how to resolve such conflicts. Though He insisted bestowing respect for the elevated ones; still He emphasized on the need to rethink through the process by being aware. When people research and evaluate the complexities in stories from the scriptures, they would themselves independently conclude before commenting by reading scriptures and books. He did not want to hurt anyone's sentiments but insisted people to cultivate a thirst for knowledge; and be a seeker for wisdom. Stories does not talk about the solution. Therefore, those books should be published with the solution if there is any inner meaning of those stories. It is best to work in steps with your consciousness. The tales were passed on verbally, and lot of changes might have happened. The directionless outpouring of devotion of some disciples might result in childish behavior to support surreal incidents and ideologically heinous act. Qualities, and greatness of God gets revealed though His philosophies and it does not need any stunt. He stated "I have a body and a mind. As per the characteristics of body and mind, I have happiness and sorrow, joy and pain, hunger, and thirst everything like common person. If I have, so everybody in this spiritual path will have the same". If body is there, disease will also be there. When His devotees inquired, "Thakur, why should you have diseases?". Though He could have told that "I have to bear many diseases of others, so I have diseases", devotees would probably have believed Him. However, He absolutely detested such deceitfulness that is employed to maintain the godliness image or to maintain the prestige. In recent times, such pretense and tricks are leveraged to attain God like image. However, if such paths were used before, and all of them had graduated without any doubt, then today there would have been thousands of Gods and every one of them would have been awarded degree. But most of them have landed themselves in such a situation, that nobody can progress further. It seemed all others were sinner and cursed, so that except them nobody can be Avatar or God. It could not be so by the laws of Nature. If Gods were made in similar way as the schools and universities, then there would have been abundant Gods and Great men. However, following such path many are becoming so called ‘Gurus’ and nothing more. If there were originalities, then they could produce originals. In real world we witness fake Gods everywhere. This was the reason why everybody remained in misery, suffer the circle of life-and-death, and for this they constantly blame their own fate and fortune, their sins from last births and do nothing to alleviate. That is why we need to practice the rhythms and need to play the tune present in seven centers of our bodily instrument to bloom in full. How long can one remain Godman through tricks? That is the reason none is reaching anywhere. We are all busy arranging food and shelter for their own, but unable to cater for ourselves, let alone other things. If He had applied tricks, He could have reached a couple of degrees above divinity. It is not difficult to become a Godman by applying various tricks as it is so easy to be a fake. However, when He fits His X-ray like gadget, He could see the skeletons of most of the Godmen all around. He could well imagine what consequences He must face, if He exposed freely whatever malpractices were happening in those days. I did not step back out of the fear; rather, He was moving ahead slowly. He had to endure several harassments for that. He had been insulted, humiliated, but He continued to fight, and He wanted to do so till the end. He did not want to step back with fear as He knew He had to die today or tomorrow. He tip-toed with the progress as He desired to keep fighting after judging the situation. He was thinking deeply how to protect this society from the hypocrisy, fraud, and parasitic exploitations. He started taking up the matter head-on. To destroy the evil, we need to work with the evil. Through known superstitions, He wanted to break the fortress of prevailing superstitions. He tried to demonstrate the worship of justice and truth by encouraging practice in a bigger way. He never accepted money and materials to confer the initiation but asked His disciples to donate an equivalent value to their own heart and mind by understanding His words by heart and leave all their superstitions behind. He searched the truth of Nature gradually and realized the truth while listening with His free mind. He refrained from calling anyone Avatar or God as He used to look the way Nature had inspired Him. He could see the play of tricks and spiritual businesses were being run without having spiritual capital. If He wished, He could have been a millionaire in this path without any capital investment. If He desired, He could have built multiple houses at various places through this spiritual path, but He vehemently despised this path. He insisted that those who were earning money from common people by applying tricks, must stop their business. He kept protesting all dishonest swindlers. He wanted to protect the honor of His post by clearing such stalled practices in spiritual path. He kept fighting as He wanted to establish the truthfulness of the Nature through this fighting. We are like the soldiers of this war. There were no contradictions in the miracles of Nature and those miracles are eternal truths. Every race is bound to accept it happily. All are progressing with the universal tune of Nature. He used to state that “I am working in the factory of nature’s miracle and realized those miracles. I can vouch one day one can realize what that miracle could be, and what spiritualism is; it will be realized automatically in the factory of those miracles. No race, no country, no period can ever deny that.” Today one religion cannot accept the others. One country cannot accept religion of other country. This conflict is continuing. Everybody is still swaying in the swing of conflict. If He opened the miracles of the Nature’s factory He was working in, it would have been accepted by all race and religions, and nobody will doubt it. He preached the religion of the eternal Cosmos. In that religion there is no factionalism, discrimination, sectarianism. It is still unquestionable like Sun light. Everybody can readily accept the demonstration without confusion. He placed the challenge to all elites out of his simple expression of intent. He could easily expose their true selves through their words and activities. Disguised tigers and jungles tigers are not same. It could easily be revealed who they were through their activities, history, and movements. It can easily be expressed through common sense without the requirement of spiritual knowledge. He continued facing various troubles as He was fighting against all dishonesty in this path. He got attacked by various communities who became active to teach Him a lesson. I need my army disciples to fight against them; He wished that His army disciples to stand straight against corruption when needed. So far, no Godmen or Avatar could eradicate poverty and corruption entirely out of society. Those who have attained God-like stature in the society had earned it through fighting. The identity of greatness is revealed through the great works of those mighty soldiers. Elephant cannot satiate hunger with the amount that a goat takes as the elephant requires tons of food. One who has infinite power will show the signature of infinity at every sphere of life. Ocean is always ocean. It floods everywhere when it comes with high tide. We do not face any problem to understand it and we do not have any doubt. One in whom the quality of this infinite universe is revealed at every situation can reorient and reform the society. There would be no doubts in anyone's mind if the true divinity is manifested. Everybody will accept and welcome that. However, the so-called Godmen or Avatars are not accepted even by their own people. It cannot be accepted by force. In this dubious situation there is no other way but to remain silent. That is the reason that people remain silent. When the ocean is far away, the water brought from the sea through the canal. There is both high and low tide in the sea. There is less water during the low tide and brimful during the high tide. The greatness of the sea can be dragged to the water in the canal. The percentage of salt may be less in the confined water of canal, but some salt remains in it. Through this canal, the sea reveals its true existence. It shows that the canal will lead the way into the sea. Sometimes water do overflow from the canal. As the honeybees extract honey from the flowers, in similar manner we must navigate through our life by extracting honey from the Nature. We may not have the proboscis, which the honeybees use to collect nectar from the flowers, so we find problems to collect honey from Nature. One, who can follow the lessons of Nature can use it synchronized with Nature's tuning to extract honey from the Nature, will be considered the real wise person. Such person can understand and realize everything. He will be the true authority of Nature's philosophy, who himself amalgamates with Nature's philosophy as His revelation will be nature oriented. He will be able to truly perceive the right and wrong. Hence, if everyone from the society progress together and can impartially judge without any influence, or fear, or illusion, then only everything will be clear. Human characteristic is to depend on thoughts and progress of leaders. This very characteristic is defeating. One who is leading life in step with his self-consciousness will discover the path in definite terms. However, it is not easy for everyone to follow their consciousness easily. It is easy to say, but difficult to follow. Thakur led His life, thoughts, and activities every moment in tuning with His self-consciousness. He had to work bearing in mind prevailing directives and superstitions of the society. Though Thakur was seated on the throne of a spiritual master, but He did not want basking on the accolades of His spiritual ranking. He was there to expose the identity of some parasites seating in the seat of spiritual masters and protect the society, by removing confusion for the masses. There were many cheats who were swindling common people by doing rites and rituals in the name of bringing peace and prosperity. He wanted to establish the truth through His preaching of Veda. From very tender age He moved forward having found the truth of Nature, the justice and balance in Nature. Thakur did not have any desire to hold any post and seat. He was the preacher and the bearer of Nature's tune without any pretenses and without being decked with any title. Who is called Spiritual Master? To detect it, a detailed analysis and explanation is required. It seemed He had built a beehive

by extracting honey from the Nature and in attraction of honey, people rushed to Him. He considered it as the achievement of Nature and assumed His duty as the honey extractor who extracts honey. Thousands of people used to come for this attraction, but He refused taking any credit. He used to nurture everybody with His love and affection. These are like extracted honey from Nature, which I have collected from Nature. He kept utilizing the abilities that was inbuilt within Him. He tried to elevate everyone with that Nature's tune that resided within Him and continues to reside inside everybody. Through practice of meditation everyone may acquire everything. It only needs devotional practice. He did not rely on fate but on actions. Through serious work, one would get result one day. Confidence never comes from unawareness or obscurity. He gained such confidence from Nature's mathematical formulas as He did not believe in blind faith. He justified things by self-verification before He believed anything and waited until His own consciousness responds. His consciousness is everywhere in the world, in all living and non-living beings, in the air and in the sky, it is spread over His own questions and answers too. While moving ahead for the solution with His installed instrument He could see everyone through that instrument for the solution. He accepted and agreed only when the instrument responded positively, otherwise not. Being totally realistic, He practiced what He preached. Though these words made Him seem to be an atheist, yet He was utmost rationalist. The instrument of His reasoning could detect what exist and what not by trying to enhance His internal tune by leveraging the tune to the universal eternal tune that He received from His childhood. People will remain astonished every moment, recurringly on how this eternal tune manifests itself in so many ways, with so many melodies, and with so many colors but cannot be expressed through any language! It has a dynamic rhythm, it has dimensions, and even it has formed a structure. He played the melodies through the seven centers of the bodily instrument with the tuning of that eternal melody. The tune is for love, for abatement of fear and within this tune all living beings can find their existence, and can understand why they have come, what is their purpose and duty, and where they will go. This tune talks about the commencement and the conclusion. Every moment it provides solution, leading towards the ultimate solution. It is so simple and straight, but it cannot be expressed in language. In this path, there will be no God, no Avatar, no criticism, and no praise. All spiritual vigilant should get ahead in their mind following the universal tune. He wished to make everyone a traveler in that eternal path. He still guides everyone to travel in the right direction though each one belongs to different class of the same school. Someone is a seed, someone is sprout, and someone has already bloomed with fruits and flowers. One who is a sprout today, will be seedlings tomorrow. Such were His thoughts based on real subjects and not based on any imagination or emotion.
